FIERCE FIGHTING

But Russians Are Being Gradually
Driven Back.

Sinking of Japanese Armoured
Cruiser Kasuga Reported
From Rome.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 3.—Whether a general engagement is already progressing around Liao Yang between the forces of Gen. Kuropatkin and the three Japanese armies which have been moved against them from the south and east, the decisive battle of the campaign is regarded as certain if the Japanese energetically follow up their preliminary successes of the last three days. At various points the fighting has been of a desperate and bloody character, the Russians offering the most stubborn resistance. The losses, therefore, although their extent is not yet established, must be heavy on both sides. Between 6,000 and 8,000 men is one estimate given of the Russian losses.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 3.—The correspondent of the Associated Press hears that Emperor Nicholas has just received a telegram at Peterhof containing alarming news. It is also reported that Viceroy Alexieff, who had gone to Harbin on his way to Vladivostok, returned to Liao Yang yesterday and conferred with Gen. Kuropatkin regarding the situation.

Rome, Aug. 3.—The Giornale D'Italia today published in an extra edition a dispatch from Tokio announcing that the Japanese armoured cruiser Kasuga, formerly the Argentine warship Rivadavia, has been sunk. The announcement caused a great sensation here.

DOLLAR FORTY-THREE

Paid for Wheat in San Francisco, California.

Wheat at San Francisco, Cal., reached the highest price of the season for both spot and futures Tuesday. Under heavy transactions, part of which were to cover shorts, the December option rose to $1.43. Cash values were advanced with futures, and No. 1 spring wheat is now quoted at $1.40 and choice at $1.41 1/4 @ $1.42 1/4, while milling grades are strong at $1.45 to $1.75 per cental.

The wheat yield for California this year it is estimated will not exceed 500,000 tons, but the Northern Pacific States will harvest an average crop.

Mr. Keeling is of the opinion that it was the work of an incendiary and bloodhounds were secured at Greenville, but they failed to make out a trail. The loss is $300. There was no insurance.

JAPANESE ON THE MARCH.

Good Spirits and Good Order a Noticeable Thing in the Mikado's Troops.

The departure of the soldiers from a district such as Tokio presents many points of interest. The youth of the men is a little remarkable, the good spirits and the order highly so. Every large Japanese house in one's neighborhood has soldiers billeted in it—in the capacious suite of houses belonging to the Tokunaga family as many as 500 soldiers are said to be lodged, says a Tokio correspondence of the London Times. Yet, except for the matter of seeing the soldiers about the gates and doors, the neighborhood shows no difference either in sight or sound. When a body of men is marched to the station for en-trainment there are observers on the roadside showing an interest in the progress, but no friends mix themselves up with the troops, or in any way help to throw them into confusion. One hears strange stories of the calm resolution with which each individual looks forward to death as a certain result of their campaign; even of mothers telling their sons that they have no wish to see them again—they devote them to the service of the emperor. The high spirits and good-tempered smile of the soldiers which one sees here in continual evidence seem to our western ideas inconsistent with such stoicism, yet stoicism was characteristic of old Japan, and has its counterpart in the new. One hears further of men divorcing their wives out of pure philanthropy. The divorced woman somewhat readily marries again, the widow rarely, so the divorced goes back to her parents and waits her time, while the soldier husband is free to sacrifice his life without a claim upon it. How excellently the Japanese patience and indomitable pluck have served the nation on the sea has been amply shown in the opening events of the present war. Before these notes are read there will certainly have been many tests of the same qualities on land. What is even more to the point here, there will have been a heavy drain on the resources of the funds which have been enumerated.

ACT QUICKLY.

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Hopkinsville.

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in times of danger. Backache is kidney danger. Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. Cure all distressing, dangerous kidney ills.

Plenty of evidence to prove this. Mrs. O. P. Lewis, wife of O. P. Lewis blacksmith and general repairer living at 508 N. Virginia St., says: "Acting upon the advice of friends I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Thomas & Travers's drug store and tried them for kidney complaint from which I had been a constant sufferer for a long time past. My back had been in such condition that it was the greatest distress for me to stoop or lift anything but I had taken only a few doses of the pills when I felt greatly benefited. The kidneys were strengthened and the aching in my back relieved. My daughter Mrs. Wm. J. Tobin who complained a great deal of her back used Doan's Kidney Pills and was similarly benefited. I take pleasure in recommending this remedy to others."

BAMBOOS OF THE JAPANESE

Most Useful Material Is as Indispensable as White Pine in America.

The word bamboo suggests to most Americans a faithful fishing rod or a dainty fan. To the Japanese and Chinese, who are the most practical agriculturists in the world, it is as indispensable as the white pine to the American farmer, says the National Geographic Magazine. They are not only dependent on it for much of their building material, but make their ropes, mats, kitchen utensils and innumerable other articles out of it.

There are many varieties of the bamboo plant, from the species which is woven into mats to the tall bamboo tree which the Chinese uses for the mast of his large boat. One variety is cultivated as a vegetable, and the young shoots eaten like asparagus, or they may be salted, pickled or preserved.

The rapidity of growth of the bamboo is perhaps its most wonderful characteristic. There are actual records of a bamboo growing three feet in a single day, or at the rate of 1 1/2 inches an hour. Varieties of bamboo are found every where in Japan, even where there are heavy falls of snow in winter. It is a popular misconception that bamboos grow only in the tropics. Japan is a land of bamboos, and yet when the plant grows it is not so warm in winter as it is in California. Some of these varieties could be grown commercially in the United States.

JAPANESE WIVES MENIALS.

Without a Murrain of Complaint They Wait Upon Their Husbands.

The position of the Japanese wife is not that of equality with her husband, writes Jason Trench, in the Smart Set. He is the lord, to be obeyed by her in the most servile manner. He exacts from her the little attentions that an American woman expects, and usually gets, from her husband. Without so much as a murmur of complaint from his spouse, who must always receive him with bows and smiles, and ever have her mind and eyes on his comfort, he goes and comes when he pleases. When he fares forth specially, he does not take her with him; when he receives gentlemen in his own house—a rare thing, by the way—madam seldom presents herself, unless in some menial capacity. And while such a thing as conjugal love must exist in Japan, it usually escapes the notice of the foreign sojourner, the people considering it vulgar to exhibit emotion of any kind in public. The wife as a social unit being completely submerged, it follows that others of her sex must take her place socially, and in this office the geisha girl plays an important role.

MUSICIAN'S ANECDOTE.

There Was a Crack Between Two Notes and That's Where the Flat Went.

Richard Strauss told a little anecdote which will be appreciated by musicians and perhaps by laymen as well, says the New York Tribune.

He was teaching his young son the piano keyboard by the inductive system, and the boy, having learned all the notes, both white and black, Strauss began to review of the lesson by asking: "And now, Henry, show me A-flat."

Henry soon figured it out. The next question was: "Where is G-sharp?"

That also proved easy. After asking the boy several more questions about sharps and flats, Strauss said: "Where do you think we shall find C-flat?"

Henry looked at the keyboard long and curiously, he put his finger on C, and next on B, then he got down close to the piano, and after examining it carefully replied: "I don't know, papa, but I guess it's gone down that crack between B and C."

Traveling Hint.

On a long railway journey a woman can keep the dust and dirt from her hat by placing it in a large paper bag and hanging it up. A useful bag for a wet wash cloth or sponge can be made of rubber, the outside being covered with plain or fancy silk.—Boston Budget.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by Dr. J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

A negro writer named Henry S. Baker, writing to the Washington Post, says if Roosevelt is re-elected by the negro voters of doubtful states that they will demand the nomination of Booker T. Washington for vice president in 1908. He compliments Roosevelt for doing Washington in the White House and calls attention to the scene in the Republican convention, when a beautiful white girl was placed upon the stage and by her side a negro boy, and that they led the cheering, thus making an example of the equality of the races. He then points out that the Democratic convention was a white man's party, and that in it, there was not a single negro man.

County mass-conventions were held in the Fifth Appellate district Saturday to select delegates to the Democratic district convention, which met at Lexington yesterday to nominate a candidate for Appellate Judge. The returns indicate the instructed delegate vote as follows: Cantrill 79, Saulley 53, and Carroll 50. Judge Cantrill's nomination is expected. The Judge, who was recently stricken with paralysis, is improving.

FAVORS PARKER.

Astrologer Finds That Planets Indicate Judge's Election.

A Chicago astrologer, A. E. Baumgart, reads in the stars that Judge Parker will be elected President. Here is his forecast:

"President Roosevelt was nominated on June 23 at 1:19 p. m., Chicago standard time.

"Judge Parker was nominated July 9 at 5:50 a. m. at St. Louis, Mo.

"It would be unsafe to choose a winner without a careful examination of the individual horoscopes of the candidates, their time of birth not being accurately known.

"A comparison of the horoscopes made for the moment each candidate was nominated shows some interesting facts.

"President Roosevelt was nominated under conditions that are evil and conflicting. There are strong indications that religious agitation of some kind will play an important part in the campaign, and that foreign influences of a character unknown to previous campaigns will play an important part, and may seriously impair the prospects of the Republican candidate, if not actually defeat him.

"The Democratic horoscope appears the more fortunate of the two, and favors the election of Judge Parker. The party will be seriously annoyed by treacherous and incompetent subordinates, and will be seriously harassed by underground schemes and secret tactics.

"The President's horoscope shows serious afflictions the present year, and will have a strong opposition to contend with. Furthermore, both candidates were nominated under conditions in which the eccentric and erratic planet Uranus plays an important part. There are strong probabilities that the campaign will develop conditions which will upset all calculations, resulting in a state of affairs entirely unknown in American politics.

CONCENTRATION

As a Means of Relief From the Dilemma Tobacco Growers Now Find Themselves In.

There is not a single word in the English language that is playing as great a part in the history of the world as this one word, "Concentration." Indeed Concentration is the watch-word of the hour. In church, state, railroads, finances and business affairs of every nature, there is one idea that is so prevalent that we not only see it, but feel it, and almost breathe it. It both ramifies and penetrates. Concentration is a new disease which if we are not trying to catch, we should be, for it is the essence of success today. Extreme concentration force must of course be met by a counter force, though often of a very different character. The force of man's brain has turned Niagara, a writhing sea of water, peacefully into channels of greater usefulness, where it plays an important part in the economy of our every day lives. Concentration of thought and action is becoming more powerful year by year, until it almost seems that it is all-powerful, and yet this is not true. In the light of past progress there is no concentration of force, or power, whether physical, intellectual or financial, that will not become a greater force. This concentrated force is not necessarily a trespass upon the equitable rights of others, but unfortunately, when placed in the hands of fallible man it usually becomes so, and therefore the necessity for a common force. The tobacco growers have felt the hand of oppression and ruin laid heavily upon them. They have encountered a concentrated force that is spreading despair and desolation in its wake. There is no means of vanquishing an enemy more effectually than by making him fully respect you, and from this, lasting and desirable relations have grown. Concentrated thought and concentrated action upon the part of the tobacco growers can easily accomplish that end which they desire, a better price for their tobacco. Men of every other vocation organize, and organize advantageously, certainly growers can, and they must inevitably. In day's gone by there were organizations among farmers, such as the Grange, Wheel, Farmers' Alliance, etc. These organizations were cumbersome, unwieldy, containing membership in many states, having many salaried officers, and last but not least, having politics, the monetary system of the country, and divers other things injected into them, until they died of their own weight. In this tobacco district, however, there should be an association with but one end in view, the better price of tobacco, and make that an entirely local matter, affecting only about thirteen counties in Tennessee and Kentucky. It is the easiest and simplest relief procurable, and can be accomplished without a gun-shot of abuse, or the hoisting of the sword of vituperation. It is easier of accomplishment than the holding of an ordinary county election. It can be accomplished without a violation of the law, or without an infringement upon the inalienable rights of others. We have already neglected this matter too long. When a thing is inevitable, when we easily see the necessity for concentrated thought and action, it is best to do it promptly. We have lost not an inch of ground, or a sentiment of patriotism by the delay. Such an organization can be as easily effected now as at any time in the past, but we have sacrificed our tobacco unnecessarily for several years. The press, that indispensable ally to every movement of importance, is heartily with the grower, the sentiment of the world is overwhelmingly with him. The opportunity is at hand right now.

There are preliminary organizations, with intelligent, progressive men at their heads, to do bidding of the growers. The farmer is somewhat like the young lion, he has not learned his strength, he has not fully appreciated the strength of organization. Another danger confronts him as inevitable as is this concerted action, and it must be bridled or it will come like an avalanche. All irrelevant matter must be winnowed out and men of highest standards of integrity and acumen must be put in control to safeguard the undertaking to one goal, an advance in the price of tobacco. The growers will organize and resist, this oft-increasing flood which is rapidly encroaching upon, and engulfing our vital interests, but if they did not, they would forfeit that esteem in which the world holds all men who know their rights, and know they are capable of maintaining them.

Resolutions Adopted.

At the Board meeting on Tuesday, August 2nd, 1904, the following resolutions were introduced and unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, Gov. Beckham, in the exercise of his good judgment and sound discretion, has transferred our most efficient second assistant physician, Dr. J. W. Stephens, to a higher sphere of usefulness, viz., to the position of first assistant physician of the Lakeland Asylum, and, whereas, we have been officially and personally acquainted with Dr. Stephens, more or less, for several years, and have been in a position to know him, and to be conversant with his record at this institution,

Therefore, Be it resolved, by the Board of Commissioners of the Western Kentucky Asylum for the Insane, that it is our pleasure to bear testimony to the fact that the administration of his office has been characterized by skill, fidelity and close attention to business, and altogether, he has admirably performed the delicate duties of his office, and in addition to all this, his superior intelligence, his genial, social disposition, and amiability of character, as manifested in his intercourse with all the unfortunate patients under his care, as well as with his official brethren, with the stranger within his gates, as well as with his friends, have endeared him to all who are so fortunate as to know him.

"Resolved, That we reluctantly give him up, but are proud of the promotion our honored Governor has accorded him, and which has been so worthily bestowed.

"Resolved, That he leaves this institution with our benedictions, trusting that his new surroundings may be as pleasant and profitable as he could desire, that he may honor the place he has been called to fill, and that still greater honors may be in store for him in the future.

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of this asylum, and that a copy be furnished Dr. Stephens."

MURDERED BY NEGRO.

White Man Killed in Owensboro Sunday.

Owensboro, Aug. 4.—There is now little doubt that Roy Green, a yellow negro, who lives on Hall street, is the murderer of James Coomes, the man who was killed at the fair grounds last Sunday afternoon; and whose body was found twenty-four hours later. Green was with the man for several hours and has been traced with him to the fair grounds. He is gone and his whereabouts are not known.

Strict Orders.

Pullman car conductors have received strict orders, within the past few days, in regard to handling Pullman cars. According to the rules of the Pullman Company one conductor is not allowed to have charge of more than four cars. Recently, it is said, this rule has been overlooked, and on some trains one Pullman car conductor has had charge of five or six cars.

COUNTY TEACHERS.

List of Assignments By School Districts.

Some Schools Have Already Begun the Fall Sessions—Others Will Start Next month.

The following teachers have been assigned for the county school districts and in some cases the schools have already commenced.

Most of them will begin Sept. 1 for a term of six months, under the new law. The assignments given are for white districts only. There are 92 white and 54 colored districts. All of the white districts have secured teachers except 18. There are only a few teachers not yet assigned. There will be at least a dozen schools without teachers unless they can be supplied at the final examination this month. All unassigned schools are of the third class. The school per capita is $2.95, with the bank tax in litigation, which would increase it about $1.00. The county schools use the same books as heretofore for three years, under a contract made before the new law was passed.

Submitting to the voters the question of whether or not they will abolish the secret ballot. This is to be voted on at the regular November election.

Reducing the number of trustees of a graded school from six to five.

Prohibiting the shooting of rabbits or squirrels between the 15th day of September and the 15th day of November.

Defining vagrancy and fixing the punishment at a fine of $10 or imprisonment for 30 days for the first offense, for the second offense and all subsequent offenses 60 days imprisonment; all persons convicted being required to work at hard labor until fine and costs are satisfied. Vagrants are declared to be able-bodied males with no trade, calling or profession, and no visible means of support, who habitually loiter or ramble; able-bodied males who fail or refuse to labor for the support of their families; able-bodied males who purposely desert their wives or children; any able-bodied male or female who habitually loiters about the streets or public places of any village or town. Any court has jurisdiction to try vagrants.

Making it unlawful to sell whisky by wholesale in local option districts.

Prohibiting the adulteration, mixing or misbranding of orchard grass seed and other seed.

The fine is $3 to $50, or imprisonment for 30 days, or both.

Changing the time of assessing property for taxation from September 15 to September 1.

Total 65 crops..... 333,400

We doubt if there is another county in Kentucky that can show 60 wheat growers whose crops average more than 5,000 bushels, or a dozen whose crops exceed 8,000 bushels each. The average price of 92½ cents makes these 65 crops represent more than $300,000. These big crops probably represent about one-third of the county's crop, so that the estimated value of the crop for 1904 may be conservatively placed at $900,000.

R. F. Rives & Son raised the largest crop. R. F. Rives alone raised 100,000 bushels, more than any other single grower. Geo. P. Rives raised 3,700, and R. H. Rives, another son, 3,300. In addition to their wheat they raised 1,000 bushels of barley.

It is estimated that the present crop in Christian county will aggregate 1,000,000 bushels, the largest on record. A well known farmer expressed the situation with the remark: "We have a wheat crop and a half and can sell it at a price and a half."

The highest price realized by those who have sold was by E. D. Jones & Son, who received $1.00, less sack rent, or 97½ cents. R. T. Stowe sold at 96 cents. W. A. Radford, P. N. Baker and several others got 95 cents. No sales have been made at less than 90 cents. Many large crops have been moved over the Tennessee Central Railroad at 92, 94 and 95 cents.

J. J. Garrett, of Pembroke, reports the best yield in the county, an average of 63 bushels an acre. His variety is called the "New Columbia."

W. W. MARSH,

The Winter Haven, Ohio, Weather Man's Forecasts.

Intense Heat, Good Rain Fall, and Damaging Storms For the Month of August.

From the August weather forecasts by Marsh, the Ohio weather man, we glean the following weather probabilities:

Good rainfall, and at times high cyclonic winds and damaging storms, will occur during the month of August, covering the greater portions of the United States. At times during the month intense heat will prevail, relieved by heavy rains and damaging storms. The storms during the month will be violent over the entire country, the most damage occurring over the Southern and Gulf states and southern coasts.

Second to fourth of month, showers and thunderstorms.

Between 8th and 13th—Great storms will prevail between these dates in all sections of the country. Cyclonic winds and general rainfall will cover the entire country, severe upon the waters, Gulf of Mexico, Atlantic Ocean and Great Lakes.

August.

In sheltered porch, vinehied and cool.

My lady swings in hammock gay, While fiercely beams the sun above.

What knows she of the heat, I pray?

Her lithesome form all clad in white, From open throat to snowy shoes, Her mind intent on distant scenes; On plot "the latest"—the novel "new."

Bright the pillow beneath her head, And gay the roses on her Japanese fan;

Striped the hammock, but no other color, Save the big bow on little dog, Dan.

Secure behind the budding leaves, I ponder on that dreamful face, And wonder if amid her thoughts, One thought of me has place.

But Dannie's standing at "attention."

And I, alas! must linger not, Or the rascal will be barking at me, And chase me from this charming spot.

So with a longing and lingering glance, Reluctantly my steps I wend Back to the busy marts of trade, Where heat and toil and strife do blend.

Back, but with a spirit freshened, Strengthened by the picture quite Of a dear girl swinging in a hammock.

Book in hand and clad in white. "ROSEMARY."

A UNITED STATES SENATOR

Used Per-na For Dyspepsia With Great Benefit.

HON. M. C. BUTLER, Ex-United States Senator from South Carolina.

EX-UT. S. Senator M. C. Butler from South Carolina, was Senator from that state for two terms. In a recent letter from Washington, D. C., he says: "I can recommend Per-na for dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I have been using your medicine for a short period and I feel very much relieved. It is indeed a wonderful medicine besides a good tonic."—M. C. Butler.

Per-na is not simply a remedy for dyspepsia. Per-na is a cathartic remedy. Per-na cures dyspepsia because it is generally dependent upon clogging of the stomach.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Per-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

EVANSVILLE—TERRE HAUTE—R. R.

ing, published statements have caused some to cease trying to learn better methods from the experiences of others, but a study of the conditions will show good reasons for the conflicting results reported.

The methods of cultivation in general use in one section of the country differ greatly from those in another section. The implements and methods employed in Iowa are as different from those of Connecticut as these in turn
are different from those of Georgia, and while these differences are to some extent due to the nature of the farm land or to the class of labor employed,
they are to a still greater extent due to the conservatism of the farmers themselves.

In the south Atlantic states the observant corn grower would notice the use of terraces for preventing the washing away of the top soil. He would also see the advantage of spacing rows and stalks in the rows at distances suited to the fertility of the soil, and, where poor soil necessitates the planting of the rows six feet apart,

Good and Bad Methods
Employed in Corn CultureBy the Exercise of Care the Crop of the Country Could Be Greatly Increased.

HB object of this article is to present to farmers some suggestions as to the surest and quickest means of increasing the production of corn per acre. The writer feels certain that it is possible within a few years to double the average production of corn per acre in the United States, and to accomplish it without any increase in work or expense. It is not to be understood from this that it is desirable to double the present corn crop, but that it is desirable to produce the same yield on a smaller number of acres and with less labor. If 60 bushels are raised on one acre instead of on two acres, the labor of plowing, harrowing, planting, cultivating and harvesting is greatly reduced. Some farmers produce from year to year an average of more than

he would perceive the economy of growing a soil-enriching, leguminous plant between the corn rows. On the broad prairies of the western states
he would learn methods of curtailing
expenses by the use of plows, planters, cultivators and corn harvesters, designed so that one man can work a large number of horses and thereby accomplish a maximum of work. With such implements one man can, without help, plant and care for 40 or 60 acres
of corn in addition to his other crops.
The same methods and implements are suitable for many farms where more tedious and laborious methods are now followed.

While it is true that proper attention to seed selection and methods of cultivation will greatly increase the average production per acre for all land now devoted to corn growing, it is

SOIL WASHING PREVENTED BY TERRACES.

60 bushels per acre, but the average of the entire United States for the past ten years (23½ bushels per acre)
shows that many are annually harvesting less than half of this quantity.
Since the average crop in the states best adapted to corn growing is but little above the general average of the entire country, it is evident that the average is not lowered to any great extent by the poor crops in sections unsuited to corn growing. Moreover, the yield per acre in the New England states, with their poor soil and short growing season, is greater than in any other part of the country. This clearly indicates the possibility of greatly increasing the yield per acre in the corn belt. This is especially easy of accomplishment in the southern states,
where the present average is low and where the growing season is not shortened by frosts.

The most valuable information regarding the growing of corn in any particular section can be obtained from unprejudiced observant corn
growers of many years' experience;
and the writer wishes to thank the hundreds who have so kindly given him such information. The fact that the experiences of growers in different localities and the reports of experiments from the various state experiment stations do not agree should not lower the estimation of the value of either. Such disagreement follows necessarily from the different soils, altitudes, latitudes and seasons. Conflic-tually true that the cultivation of corn will never be found profitable on very poor land. Some growers, from force of habit, perhaps, every spring plant corn on land which they know is too poor to produce profitable corn.

The plowing and cultivating of poor soil is as expensive as the plowing and cultivating of fertile soil. Corn growing should not be attempted on such land until it is brought into a fertile condition by the growing and plowing
under of leguminous crops, the application of manures, etc. In the meantime some of the crops that require less fertility than corn may be grown.
It should be remembered that the nature of the corn plant is such that it will not produce grain unless the soil is rich enough to afford a considerable growth of stalk, and that the belt yield of ears is not obtained unless the stalks have made a maximum growth.
For this reason some other plants will produce small or fair crops on soil too poor to produce corn. A cotton plant adjusts its yield of lint to the fertility of the soil, a small plant producing a small number of bolls containing lint of as good a quality as that from a larger plant bearing many more bolls.
A hay crop is also quite regular in proportion to the fertility of the soil.
This is not true, however, of corn.
When poor soil dwarfs grass to half its normal size, the crop of hay is reduced by about one-half, but when poor soil dwarfs the corn plants to half their normal size it is probable that there

WIDE PLANTING WITH PINNARS BETWEEN THE CORN ROWS.

will be little or no grain yield, and any ears that are produced will be small and inferior.

A STRONG MAN

Has the advantage over a weak man in the world of work. Physical strength is made from food when it has been digested and assimilated. There is no other way in which strength can be made except from food. There's many a weak man who is unable to do hard and heavy work because the food he eats is not perfectly digested and so fails to nourish the body. He has stomach
"trouble" in some form.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery
cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition.
It builds up the body with solid flesh and strong muscle, by enabling the perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

"I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia for over two years, and I was a complete physical wreck," writes Mr. Preston E. Fenstermacher, of Egypt, Lehigh Co., Pa. "Had many torturing, gnawing and aching pains—I think about all that a dyspeptic has or ever could have. I also suffered much with constipation. Muscles were soft and flabby, circulation poor and slow. Suffered greatly from cold hands and feet. At last I came across an advertisement of Dr. Pierce's and I tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I used about eight vials of the 'Pellets' and ten bottles of the 'Discovery,' which brought me back to my former state of health."

If you ask your dealer for "Golden Medical Discovery" because you have confidence in its cures, do not allow yourself to be switched off to a medicine claimed to be "just as good," but which you did not ask for and of which you know nothing.

The sluggish liver is made active by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

DEPARTMENT LIFE EFFECTS.

Clerical Life in Government Offices Is Said to Be Very Depressing.

I have no sort of doubt that there are old, gray-haired men vegetating in the departments who, if they had never secured a clerkship in Washington, would have become great lawyers, doctors, preachers, editors, authors, scientists or merchant princes, writes Champ Clark, in Saturday Evening Post. To many of them the notification of their appointment, which filled their hearts with joy and conjured up before their minds gorgeous visions of conspicuous and lucrative careers, was an unmitigated curse. They came to Washington full of lusty life, of high resolve, of lofty ambition; they are here now, fallen into the sere, the yellow leaf, their energies gone, their aspirations dead, their talents frittered away by service on a treadmill, with only one purpose remaining—to hold on to a job; and unless dismissed sans ceremony, they will be here when the inexorable and inevitable messenger, who comes for all and will not be refused, knocks at their doors, even though he should postpone his unwelcome visit a thousand years.

"The true, the play, and pity 'tis the true," The instable desire for a clerical position under Uncle Sam is comparable only to being stage struck.

The Review of Reviews is sustaining its reputation as the "indispensable magazine in the Presidential year." Its July number was a Republican one. The issue for August is Democratic—full of political articles of current and permanent value, the whole subject of the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis, with sketches, character sketches of the Democratic nominees, and the Democratic convention by a delegate to the Republican convention. These are supplemented by a character sketch of the Republican candidate for Vice-President, and some impressions of the Chicago convention by a prominent delegate to the great St. Louis body. James Greelman, of the staff of the New York Tribune, contributes the article on Judge Parker, making it not only a character sketch of the nominee, but a graphic, reasonable, and calm presentation of the Democratic case. Mr. Chas. S. Albert, a Washington newspaper man, writes the sketch of Henry G. Davis, the Democratic candidate for the Vice-Presidency. Mr. Thomas R. Shipp contributes the article on Senator Fairbanks.

Just what the aims of Japan are it would be difficult to say, but one can get a very close approximate of them by reading the article in the August number of the Review of Reviews entitled "Baron Suematsu on the Aims of Japan." Baron Suematsu was former minister of the interior for the Mikado, and when he tells that his country has no territorial ambitions, we are bound to listen with respect. The article is supplemented by a picture of the baron.

Kirschbaum writes a genial chapter on "The Best of the Union Bands."

Cairo Series Begins Here Today. The Third Game Going to Cairo Sunday.

The Hopkinsville team returned home Wednesday night having taken two out of three games from Vincennes. Monday the locals lost 10 to 5, with Bomar and Moore as battery. Tuesday they won 8 to 3, with Pettifer and Moore. Moore knocked a home run. Wednesday another victory was scored for the Browns, by 6 to 1. In this game Hopkinsville made 13 hits and only one error, while Vincennes hit Ferrell only 6 times and made two errors. Moore again parked the ball.

Secretary Farnbaker announces: "The game scheduled between Cairo and Clarksville at Clarksville Monday and which was postponed on account of rain will be played off on Thursday, it being an open date in the schedule. The game scheduled for Monday at Hopkinsville with Cairo will be played off on Friday, Aug. 5, the transfer having been made by an agreement. On Sunday, Aug. 7, Cairo and Hopkinsville will play at Cairo, the game having been transferred in May. Paducah will play off her three postponed games with Vincennes on Aug. 4, 5, and 9, these being open dates. Paducah will play at Vincennes in addition to the above, three games on Aug. 6, 7, and 8, these being scheduled games.

From this it will be seen that Cairo will be here today and tomorrow and as they are now the leaders the locals will take great delight in doing for them what they have just done for Henderson and Vincennes. Capt. Marre says his team is now second to none in the Kitty League. The boys are determined to take two out of three games in every series from now on. Alexander will pitch the game today. Moore will be the regular catcher in future games.

and he is practically disabled for the rest of the season. He has been given indefinite leave of absence, which is expected to extend to the end of the season. Collins has been a popular favorite here. He is a fine young fellow and a good player. He will as soon as he is able take a position in a bank of which his father is vice president and is probably out of the baseball business permanently. His place as catcher is being filled by "Jesse" Moore.

Shuster, instead of going to the New York State League, stopped over in Chicago, presented a recommendation of Johnstone, of the National League, who in turn secured him an appointment from President Grillo, of the American association, at $300 per month and all expenses. Moore's batting record is a source of pride to the local team. He made a home run at Vincennes two days in succession, something Wilkinson, the champion batter has not done lately. Moore will have the best batting average in the league when the next report is made. He stood .367 last month, only 25 points behind Wilkinson.
